

Chester Tipton

December 25, 2005 - February 3, 2019

From Faye:

I called him Chester Baby.

Chester was a little furry angel sent from God to ease my grief over the loss of my son.

Chester was such a smart and sweet little soul. He brought such joy to my life.

I will be forever grateful and feel truly blessed that he came into my life.

He was small, yet caused such an enormous and profound effect on my life.

Grief is the price for love, and I loved my Chester Baby so much.

I miss you so much Chester Baby. Gone to soon.

From Ray:

Chester found me when I most needed him.

He brought love and forgiveness for my past mistakes.

He never asked for much, but gave all he had.

When he was dying and needed me most, I couldn't save him.

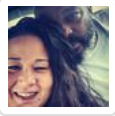

I will always carry this pain with me.

Although he had the smallest feet, he left the largest foot print.

I believe he knew that I loved him more than my own life.

I miss my friend, Chester the WatchKat so much.

Comments

“ So sorry for your loss. Chester was big part of your guys lives. I know he loved you as much as you loved him. He will be missed by all

Kaiulani Holmes - February 13, 2019 at 11:55 PM

“ My dad and Faye truly loved Chester with all their hearts. It's been a long time since I've seen my dad so attached to an animal. Chester will be missed.

Michael Tipton - February 12, 2019 at 07:27 PM

“ Chester was Chestnut to us. He found us Christmas Eve 2006. Chestnut walked out of the church as we were walking in! He was a stray and somehow he had gotten locked in the church that day and was eager to escape. As fate would have it we had lost our dear cat “Puds”, just 3 weeks before after a brave battle with cancer. Chestnut was our Christmas gift from God! He and Katie became fast friends as he climbed into her lap and promptly fell asleep on the way home from church that day. Katie named him “chestnut” after the Christmas Song. Chestnut was gentle, smart, and very playful! We had never had a cat want to play as much as chestnut wanted to play and it was a blast! He slept with us, ate with us, and constantly meowed at us, telling us what to do!! He became the neighborhood favorite even with the neighbors dogs!

The years passed and we moved to our new home on Bramford Rd. Chestnut immediately made friends with Elaine and Ron, Glenn and Carmen, and of course Ray and Faye. He became a hospice cat for Elaine and Ron and was a wonderful companion for Ron. The dynamics had changed in our home when we moved. Katie was no longer around as often as Chestnut would've wished. And then our home was invaded by two little munchkins - our grandchildren. They were a little rough on Chestnut and took all my attention. I think perhaps Chestnut felt a bit left out and his quiet home was now a noisy zoo. He began to spend more time outdoors. He went looking for new friends and he found Faye and Ray. He fell in love and the feeling was mutual. He was receiving a super abundance of attention and he always did thrive on that. It became apparent that he was happiest with Ray and when he stopped coming home it was a done deal. He became Rays Chester.

It was weird and sad to let him go but it was honestly best for him. We had become so busy and noisy and in his elder years he deserved better. And he got that with Ray and Faye! I'm happy that he was so content, and received such loving attention. And he and I still enjoyed an occasional sweet visit together.

Chestnut touched a lot of lives in many special ways. The tributes from Ray and Faye show just how deeply he touched their hearts. We are sorry especially for their loss. But we hope they will take comfort knowing this last year was without a doubt his happiest.

Lori McKenzie - February 11, 2019 at 11:29 AM

“ He was so loved and taken care of. That means the most.

Jeremy Tipton - February 08, 2019 at 10:49 AM

“ 6 files added to the album Memories Album

Schoedinger Pets Memorials & Cremation Services - February 08, 2019 at 09:14 AM

“ Chester was very lucky to have such loving parents. I hope that you are able to find comfort in knowing he loved you so much.

Allison - February 10, 2019 at 08:56 PM