Rowdy Dryden

You were born into our family in April 2011. You crossed the rainbow bridge March 29, 2021. You were such a handsome boy. I'm going to miss your bright green eyes and your unique purr. Thank you for giving us so much unconditional love and so many laughs. All you wanted in return was food in your bowl and a clean litter box. You were such an independent boy; you loved being alone. We never knew where we'd find you sleeping. You had some good hiding places. I loved to watch you nodding off to sleep sitting up, and continue sleeping without moving. You'd always let us know if we stopped petting you too soon. You'd grab our hand with your paw and bite us so we'd have to pet you until you were done. You always made us laugh when you'd take your Nascap laps throughout our house. During those laps it was amazing how you'd fly down to the basement so fast your paws didn't touch the steps. You loved to explore, especially when you'd get into the basement bedroom. Your favorite toy was the weights from the balloons from the dollar tree. You'd sit and chew on them for hours, even eating some of them. (I'd see them in your poo when I cleaned the litter box). Matt is so lost without you, since you mothered him from the time he was born. It showed when he'd find you asleep regardless of space you had, He'd have to cuddle his huge body against yours. So many times, you'd have to get up so neither of you would fall. You are loved and will be missed by your half-brothers Matt & Ricky, Cousins Crazy, Jack & Rose, K9 Cousin Killer Man, and people family Maw Maw, Rick, Erik, Blayd, Shane, Kane. You will be reunited with your K9 cousin Sasha who crossed The Bridge November 3, 2020. You both crossed it before your time. I wish I could have saved you. You will live on in my heart until I can hold you again.

Maw Maw loves you and misses you,

Rowdy
