

Casper Powers

February 16, 2012 - April 9, 2024

I met Casper on Easter 2012, He was about 6 weeks old. As soon as the breeder put him in my arms, he wrapped his little paws around my fingers, he knew I was his person. It was love at first sight for both of us. He always slept with me, I bought a special pet basket for him, so he could go on bike rides with me. Casper always followed me wherever I went, he loved car rides and always waiting for me when I came home. I loved him dearly and a piece of my heart died with him when he passed. I will always love my forever puppy!
