

Jericho Newsome

November 18, 2001 - April 21, 2018

Jericho was a very special dog, he loved being around people he loved. He loved his Bubba Cain Rogers who is waiting for him at the Rainbow Bridge. I know they are running through the tall weeds, sitting on the banks of Heaven chasing butterflies. There were so many facets to his personality earning several nicknames like bubble butt, Jerky and often referred to as Jerry and most affectionately "Pumpkin head". He was a natural thief stealing socks, shoes and anything else he could get his mouth on, but always willing to return it for the small price of a treat. He was true and faithful friend, seeing me through many tough times and always there to offer comfort. I will miss him dearly.

Mommy loves you Pumpkin head, now run and play with your brothers until mommy comes to get you.

Love you baby boy ~ Mommy.
