

Jessie Cooke

June 25, 2012 - February 9, 2026

Thirteen years ago, a tiny puppy entered our lives and changed the rhythm of our hearts. Today, that house feels far too still. Jessie was never 'just a dog.' She was the smartest person in the room - and she knew it! She was a beautiful and clever soul who could outsmart us at every turn, yet possessed a stubborn streak that commanded the respect of everyone she met. She lived for the things that made life vibrant: The Thrill of the Hunt: No squeaky toy was safe in her presence, and no Christmas present stayed wrapped for long. She turned shredding paper into an art form. The Great Outdoors: Whether it was the quiet magic of a sunrise walk at the lake beach or the simple joy of sitting like a statue in the freezing snow, Jessie was at home in the world. The Simple Pleasures: She was the undisputed champion of 'carpet fests,' a dedicated lover of cheese, and a professional seeker of treats. To lose her so suddenly feels like the sun went down without warning. But as we look at the empty spots in the snow and the quiet corners of the carpet, we realize how lucky we were to be hers for thirteen years. Jessie, you were our beauty, our challenge, and our best friend. We hope there's endless cheese and a beach with a permanent sunrise waiting for you. You are forever loved. See you in a minute.

“Jessie, you are the bestest girl there ever was. It feels wrong writing this because I can't believe you're actually gone. Thank you for giving us 13 wonderful years. I loved growing up with you, and I couldn't have asked for a better sister. I hope you're somewhere nice now, maybe at the beach going for a swim. Wherever you are, know you will always always be loved. See you in a minute ❤️

“ Dearest Trudy and the entire Cooke family...I am so very sorry to hear this devastating news of the unexpected loss of your sweet Jessie, she was such a lovely and truly special girl and you all were so fortunate to have her in your lives for so long and I was so blessed to have the privilege of caring for her too along with Alfie. She absolutely knew she was loved and cherished and will forever be in your hearts and in your dreams. My thoughts and prayers are with you all and I'm wishing you all peace and strength. ❤️🙏

“ Dear Cooke family... please enjoy this beautiful purple candle in memory of Jessie, and the wonderful life you shared with her. You are some of the best pet parents (and sisters) I've had the pleasure of getting to know ☐
