

JouJou Etienne

March 9, 2024

JouJou Etienne came into the world in October 2008 and transitioned on March 9, 2024.

JouJou was the most special tripod dog and friend who lived a long and full life. Almost until the end, people mistook her for a puppy on a daily basis. Her love of people, beautiful face, soft shiny black fur, and loving energy were among her trademarks. Her floppy ears, love of walks, and puppy dog eyes had the talent of converting complete strangers into "dog people."

She started life in Georgia and lived her first few years in Atlanta's West End. There, she was a staple of the neighborhood and developed her love of running and bitter lifelong hatred of all squirrels. She then moved with her Dad to Ann Arbor, Michigan where she was a special favorite of the students, faculty and friends at the University of Michigan. She enjoyed a memorable hiatus in New Haven, Connecticut where she was like a celebrity among the Yale students, New Haveners and special friends. Upon arriving in Columbus' German Village, JouJou lived her best life walking around Frank Fetch and Schiller Parks and receiving many many treats from neighbors and friends. She will be terribly missed by friends in Ohio State's City and Regional Planning Program, Knowlton School, Atlanta, Ann Arbor, Los Angeles, New York, New Haven, Boston, London, Ithaca, Pittsburgh, Chennai, Florida and German Village (Lindey's).

Her Dad and family want to thank the many people who loved her with treats, steak, walks, cuddles, and sleepovers over the years. We thank her for sharing so much love, affection, and fun with so many people.

We are going to miss our JouJouBee so much.

“JouJou was a truly amazing dog. She made cold winters in Michigan just a bit warmer. She was effervescent, gorgeous and always the most popular one in the room. She’s the only dog who has had me happily trudge out into the snow to take her for a walk. She will be deeply missed! ❤️

“When Harley introduced ms to Jou Jou, I couldn't believe how vibrant her personality was. The joy of life radiated from her and spread it with generosity. Though I knows Harley and all of us will miss her, her lovable spirit lives on in him. She truly was his soulmate -kind, curious ans compassionate.
