

Koda Youngblood

October 17, 2023

Koda was the sweetest boy, always excited to see you, always wanting you to pet him, always happy just to have your attention. Even after he got sick he just wanted affection and love, no matter how sick he got you could always tell he was full of love and ready to give it. He was a big boy, even for a german shepherd, with a deep bark, but was gentle as a lamb, even with children. He wouldn't hurt a fly. We terribly miss him, his sweet smile, and his happy wagging tail.

We miss you so much Koda. I wish there was more I could've done for you, and that I had spent more time giving you love. I hope you are okay now, able to play without pain, over the rainbow.
