

Lucy Lu Sophia Jones

January 21, 2019

Lucy will be forever remembered as the embodiment of love. She was truly beautiful with her big brown eyes and widow's peak. She loved to be in nature frolicking with squirrels or chasing seagulls by the Chesapeake Bay. She loved and nurtured our family, helped raise our boys, and even snuggled with our cats. She loved to take convertible rides in her mini cooper or trips to the park in the Kia. There is not one moment she won't be missed. Each day when we would return home she would always bring us a silly gift like a sock, napkin, or q-tip but the biggest gift of all is the pawprint she has left on our hearts.
