

Ludie Magnani

November 16, 2021

Ludie and her buddy, Bonbon, were kicked out of the house across the street when their owner died. It was early spring and they sat on their porch in the rain and sun, waiting to be let back in.

We put food out for them both and soon my son was petting them both. Within a month, Ludie came in and decided to stay. Bonbon stayed too.

We didn't know how old she was but she was old when she wandered in. She was completely deaf. Very loving and a take-no-crap cat. We loved her and we will miss her.

-Holly