

Maggie May Meade

March 16, 2023

My sweet Maggie May, where do I start? You were the best friend I never knew I needed until I had you. You came into my life, and our family's life, disguised as the perfect birthday present for a 7 yr. old little girl (Cierra). And she loved you! But you were mine, from the moment I held you I knew you and I would be inseparable. And we were, we made sure of it. Named after one of my favorite songs (Maggie May – Rod Stewart) you stole my heart and that is what really hurts. I miss you so much since you have been gone, the house seems so quiet and it's clear your fluffy friends miss you too. It feels like my heart is broken in a million pieces, and sometimes it's hard to breathe realizing you aren't going to come running in from the backyard with Bella. But as I sit here and write this small tribute to such a full life lived, I know in my heart we will meet again. You will never be far away in my heart. I love you so much my friend.

Wait for me by the door Maggie, when it's my time I will be right there to hold you again.
