It has been 17 years, but I feel like yesterday : April 2003, at the gate of Bayshore Industrial, Houston, Texas where I worked, one month old golden retriever was abandoned. When I took her home, she became my grand dog. After 16 years in Houston, Texas she followed me everywhere I went, Challenger Park(Clearlake, Texas), Lynn Groupon (League City, Texas), boating in the Clear Creek and last year when we moved to Columbus, Ohio she followed us for the 1200 miles journey to our new home. Everyday we walked her to the park. She enjoyed the 4 seasons of Columbus Ohio. The last 3 months she could not walk, and the cancer made us take one of the difficult decisions in our life. She left us for ever. It has been one week since she is gone, but I still see her, even in my dreams.
