

Orzo Smith

February 5, 2013 - June 15, 2021

Orzo lost a year long battle to lung cancer this month, a year longer than doctors gave him to live. Which truly shows how stubborn he was. His favorite hobbies included screaming (not barking) at Mariah Carey high notes, chasing imaginary squirrels and being worlds best 4am alarm clock. He never quite picked up on how to be a “good boy” because he lived life on the edge & good boys seldom make history anyway. #badboys4life. He will forever be remembered by his moms & his older brother Ru.

We already miss you and we will always love you “Nora Jean”

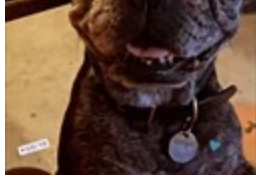

Squeeze your pups a little closer tonight & cheers to the life of our boy! ♡

-Jen

Tribute Wall

AL

“ He had an award winning smile...miss you forever Nora Jean! ”

AI - July 01, 2021 at 11:58 AM