Our lives changed a lot that summer we moved down south, nearly 15 years ago now. The biggest change was the day we brought home you! From a tiny little terror tearing into toys to a regal old lady. Always waiting for a lap to lay in, you brought so much energy and love to our home through the years. We are so grateful for all the seasons we got to spend with you. While it was your time to go, we will always cherish those memories. rest peacefully now, little Sadie
