I can't write this without crying. Having you gone from our lives is hard. We had you for almost 9 ½ years. You were a great dog. We miss your annoyances. Shedding all over the house, barking as people walk by the house, licking the snow of the patio furniture. But we miss your cuddles, always anted petted, watching you lay outside in the sun all day. Snuggling with your brother Merle and fighting for your spot. Now Merle has it all alone. He misses you too. He now lays outside by himself. But I'm sure you are next to him.

You were our first pick of the litter. Just so cute. Puppy breath and all. The 9 ½ years has been the best of our lives. All because of you. I hope you found Claude and the both of you are playing together. When the time comes Merle will be looking for you. And me and Daddy too.

So for now be a good dog. We miss you. We love you.
