

Sasha Noble

March 11, 2022

Sasha was my older sister's cat before she became mine. I got to know her for nearly 10 years, but I'll always wish we had more time. I shared a bond with Sasha that not even I understood sometimes, and when I met my boyfriend Devyn, that bond extended to him.

We hope she's playing with her brother Riley at the rainbow bridge, and that we get to meet her there someday. We'll love and miss her until that day comes.
