

Savannah McCandlish

March 5, 2005 - November 28, 2017

My husband and I got Savannah three months after we met. When we saw her we knew she was going to be our special furbaby. From day one she brought us so much joy and happiness. Savannah went everywhere we went. From car trips to Ohio and Alabama, hundred miles an hour on a motorcycle with her daddy and airplane rides. She had one heck of a life. She was so spoiled and knew she would get whatever she wanted. She loved her bones and treats. But her bones she loved most of all. Even made daddy go to the store at 10pm to get some. Savannah may have only been with us for thirteen years. But she will remain in our hearts forever. Jimmie McCandlish
