

Socks Yinger

November 21, 2022

Socks showed up in my backyard. He was so starved, it was sad. The vet said he had a broken jaw like someone had thrown him out of a car. He turned out to be such a good cat. We really miss him. He died of kidney failure, the vet did everything he could. It's sad they don't live longer than they do but we had 14 years with him and we're grateful for that.
