A loyal friend through all the phases of my life. You knew me better than I knew myself. You were found in a water puddle where someone had just thrown you away. You were too young to be away from your Mommy, so I did my best to take over for her. I will miss you riding on my shoulder, or placing your paw in my hand. I miss your purr as you cuddled under the blanket with me--I made sure this is where we spent our last night together. Watson & I will always miss you and I hope you knew you were always loved. ~Teresa Carper~
