

Tino Carbone

January 29, 2022

Good bye is never easy. Our Tino, also known as "Tino bambino" and "Tino bino", crossed the rainbow bridge January 29, 2022. We brought him into our home Dec 26, 2020 so he would not be euthanized at the shelter for being unadoptable. He was terrified and did not trust us at first, but what a sweet old man he became. He loved children, despite the shelter telling us he did not, and reciprocated our love by becoming loving toward all of us in his own special way. We were told he was around 12 when we got him, and we were not sure how long we had together, but he made our hearts full with his love and presence this past year. We wish we could have had more time to love him. Cancer always has a very different plan, he is forever in our hearts. My Valentino Day on Feb 14 will never be the same.
