

Yogi Bloom

May 20, 2024

Yogi - he was just the truest definition of unconditional love. My shadow, always by my side, and just the sweetest. Yogi was with me through some of my darkest times, where he made everything better. He followed me everywhere, room to room. Our countless road trips, moves, vacations and through life together. He loved all of his trips to Florida, where he would roam around with not a care in the world. He went everywhere with me, it didn't matter to him, as long as he was with me. I don't know what life looks like without him and I never wanted to. The biggest couch potato there ever was and the biggest embodiment of loyalty. Truly the most beloved, best friend anyone could ever ask for. He was the goofiest, brightest, and just the biggest bundle of joy. If you ever met him, you loved him instantaneously. His silly personality, and always diving in between your legs for head scratches. Thank you to everyone who loved him so wholly, and made a place in their hearts for him, he deserved an entire world full of love and happiness. I know he's up there just running through open fields, pain free, and with four healthy legs taking him wherever he wants to go, jumping in the most pristine waters.

Yogs, I will love you forever. I will deeply cherish every moment I got to spend with you. Now, I have to remember you for longer than I knew you, and I don't know what that's like, but I'll have you watching over me everyday. You will never leave my heart, you will always be my heart dog, and you changed my life. You are so special Yogs, Rest so easy bubs, I will miss you so much 🐾🐾
